

You walk by I'm left outside
You see

You walk by
You go inside
Eat inside
Shop inside
Go to work inside
Go to school inside
Get medical care inside

Knowing

even left to die

It's the road to . . .

You keep your work
I'm fired
You know, you know
I'm fired
You know, you know
It's wrong
Yet you go along
Leave me outside

It's the road
to genocide

I'm locked at home
You know, you know
Yet you go outside
Leave me locked inside

If I were black, and you were white,
would you walk on by
If I were a Jew, and you were Christian,
would you walk on by
If I were gay, and you were straight,
would you walk on by

You know, you know
Show love not hate
Don't discriminate
Be fair
Be just

But it's just easier

to walk on by
to lock your heart
block your heart

You walk by
You know, you know
inside your heart
it's not right
it's wrong

It's the road
to genocide

Is it . . .
You don't dare to care
Or you are too numb to care

You walk on by

You go along with doing harm

with walking on the road
to genocide

Do you keep walking by?

Please
walk with me, be with me
walk with us, be with us

Show love not hate
Don't discriminate
Be fair
Be just

All of us
